VISITOR EVENTS FOR THE AREA SOLICITED

If you have an event, attraction, or venue that will attract a visitor, it's needed and Rural Texas Tourism, LLC isn't kidding. With over 700 listings of visitor driven events in the surrounding seven county area (including Fayette, Lavaca, Washington, Colorado, Austin, Lee, and Bastrop) on the website for 2014 already (at www.ruraltexastourism.com), its serious business. Listings of events are posted at no charge, must be visitor driven, and are viewed by hundreds around the world within a 30 day period of time. Information requested includes the name of the event, city it's being held in, date, website and or e-mail, and telephone number for contacting.

In the last 30 days, hundreds of visitors have viewed the website from around the world including Canada, France, Lithuania, and Sweden. Out of state visitors have included the likes of Colorado, West Virginia, California, Alabama, Illinois, Ohio, Utah, Connecticut, Virginia, and Louisiana. Within the State of Texas, visitors from Round Rock, San Marcos, Horseshoe Bay, Killeen, Tyler, Austin, Missouri City, Houston, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Amarillo, San Antonio, Cedar Creek, and over 20 more major cities have viewed the website.

Rural Texas Tourism, LLC provides tours of Fayette County and the surrounding area, continues to release a host of press releases on events/businesses/venues, is distributing over 15,000 pieces of literature on the area this year, has been recognized in Texas Highways Magazine and more recently, showcased in the December 22nd edition of the Austin American-Statesman. "With so much history of settlers, trails, tradition, and cultures, we are thrilled to be a small part of encouraging overnight stays with individuals and groups." Information regarding events and/or changes may be directed to Cathy Chaloupka at cc@cvctx.com or info@ruraltexastourism.com.
